WLN COMMENDS COLORADO AIR POLLUTION CONTROL DIVISION PROTOCOL TO CONTROL GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSIONS

“Our network includes hundreds of local elected officials from Colorado representing millions of Coloradans, many of whom live on the frontlines of oil and gas pollution. We commend the Air Pollution Control Division for developing a final Greenhouse Gas Intensity Verification Protocol allowing the state to more accurately measure and control climate-damaging methane emissions. As this protocol is implemented, enforced and evolves, we urge the Division to continue collaborating with local governments and officials to ensure the program is effective, our health and air quality are protected, and Colorado continues to make progress toward state climate objectives.” - Gwen Lachelt, Executive Director, Western Leaders Network
